ANTONIO MARCEGAGLIA
President and CEO of Marcegaglia Steel and all subsidiaries of the Group operating in the steel processing sector
Vice President and CEO of Marcegaglia Holding

Born in Mantua in 1963, he graduated from high school with a scientific diploma and enrolled at Bocconi University in Milan, where he graduated with honors in Business Administration in 1987.

At a young age, he began working in the family group's companies, partnering with his father Steno and the management of the time in running daily operations, primarily focusing on all production and commercial activities.

By the age of thirty, in 1991, he took on the role of president of several group companies, overseeing their management, strategies, industrial development policies, and internationalization. Just two years later, in 1993, he became CEO of the parent company, Marcegaglia Spa, and its various subsidiaries, both in Italy and abroad.

Active in the associative field, he is Vice President of Federacciai, the Confindustria association that brings together Italian steel companies, a role he has held several times in the past and has been reconfirmed for the 2024-2026 term.

He is also part of the leadership of major Italian and foreign organizations in the steel sector. He was among the promoters and is a member of ESPA (European Steel Processors Association), the European association that unites steel processors. Previously, he was president of ESTA, the association of European steel tube manufacturers.

Currently, he sits on the Supervisory Board of the Fives Group and on the Board of Directors of publicly listed companies such as Gabetti Property Solutions. For four terms, from 2011 to 2023, he was a member of the Board of Directors of Lavazza.

In February 2024, he became a member of the Scientific Committee of the Bruno Kessler Foundation, chaired by Ferruccio Resta. In December 2024, he received the CEO Award 2024 in the Industry category, an accolade awarded annually by Forbes Italia to 15 business leaders who have distinguished themselves through competence, leadership ability, and achievements.

In July 2010, he was instrumental in establishing the Marcegaglia Foundation, currently chaired by his wife, Carolina Toso Marcegaglia. The nonprofit supports solidarity and cooperation projects both abroad, in the poorest areas of the world, and in Italy, supporting initiatives aimed at combating social exclusion, domestic violence, and new poverty, particularly focusing on aiding women and youth.

Since joining the family business, he has always prioritized the company, choosing to build his professional career within the Group, closely following its growth and production development strategies. Today, he serves as President of Marcegaglia Steel and all the Group's subsidiaries that operate in the steel processing sector, a role he has held since October 2013, when he succeeded his father Steno.
